Chemical Spray Hurts Muggers

DETROIT (AP) — Using a chemical spray bomb sold for protection against muggers, two men robbed store owner Mike Said of $500 recently.

Said told police the men sprayed him in the face with the canister and fled on foot.

Mansfield Follows His Own Advice

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Years ago, before he became the Senate's Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana said a man in a job like that should speak out and up as his conscience tells him.

He has been following his own advice ever since, sometimes in ways that must gall President Johnson who may ignore Mansfield's proposals but never quarrels with him in public.

These have been three of Mansfield's main themes:

He aches to see the Vietnamese war ended, never gives up thinking a meeting between President Johnson and French President Charles de Gaulle might do some good and wants a big reduction in U. S. forces in Europe.

Johnson has been all for peace in Viet Nam, too, but he has been cool on a meeting with the Frenchman and is against pulling troops out of Europe.

Johnson had been the Senate leader until the 1960 elections made him vice president. Then in 1961 Mansfield succeeded him. Except for that, there is not much resemblance between the two.

The President, a tough egotist, handled the senators two ways — rough and sweet. Which he used depended on which he thought was needed.

At 63 Mansfield is retiring, modest, cautious, gentle, an ex-professor, ex-soldier, ex-sailor, ex-marine, ex-miner who prefers logic and reason to the whip and is tolerant of an antagonistic view.

He didn't have any illusions about what lay ahead when he became Senate leader. One of his first statements after being chosen was: "I look forward to a period of harmony and unity."

But he also said: "Actually, the leadership is a headache. You can't please everyone. Every senator is a prima donna in some way."

Nevertheless, while the harmony may seem subdued and the unity often invisible in a place where Democrats have far outnumbered Republicans for years, senators under Mansfield have managed to avoid much fuss and feuding.

And the Republican leader, Illinois' Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, who can exude great quantities of brotherliness, said on Mansfield's 62nd birthday:

"Mike, we love you."

But, while Mansfield's heart may be in the right place, some of his most persistent hopes and proposals have landed in the refrigerator.

Just this week, with De Gaulle making a world tour, Mansfield suggested a Johnson-De Gaulle meeting to discuss the restoration of peace in Viet Nam and the future of all Southeast Asia.

Johnson isn't particularly happy with De Gaulle who undermined the North Atlantic Treaty Organization by ordering out of France all NATO troops—mostly American—who weren't under French command.

Still, Mansfield suggested that when De Gaulle, on his way home, reached Guadeloupe, a French island in the Caribbean, this would be a "most convenient" place for Johnson to meet with the French president.

The White House heard this idea calmly but stiffly, and Wednesday in Cambodia a spokesman for De Gaulle said there are no plans for such a meeting and before there was one De Gaulle would want some indication it might be fruitful.

Johnson hasn't given any.

Mansfield repeatedly has suggested a big U. S. troop withdrawal from NATO. His idea is that Europe is far better able to defend itself than it used to be, and so many Americans are not needed. Wednesday, with 12 other Democrats, he proposed it again. Republicans denounced the idea.

And the White House froze it, probably to death, by saying: "In the administration's view this would not be a helpful step at this time."

White House Drew JFK, Wife Closer

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The White House probably drew the John F. Kennedys closer together than they had ever been before, says Paul B. Fay Jr., a long-time friend of the late president.

Fay, former undersecretary of the Navy, writes of the Kennedy relationship in his book "The Pleasure of his Company" to be published Sept. 7, by Harper & Row.

"The roles of President and First Lady tended to demand that they stand apart from others, which in turn gave them many more hours together," Fay writes. "Since their roles complemented each other in so many ways, Jack did a poor job of trying to conceal his pride in Jacqueline's accomplishments as First Lady."

Fay — nicknamed "Red" — and Kennedy had been close friends since World War II when they served together as PT boat officers in training and action in the Pacific. Kennedy appointed Fay undersecretary of the Navy in 1961 and he served until 1965.

One day in 1960, when Kennedy's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination was widely recognized, Fay says, the two were playing golf at Cypress Point Club. Fay said he asked Kennedy about a rumor that the Kennedys were having marital differences.

The story was going around, Fay told him, that "Jackie is staying with you only until you are nominated or the election is over, and then is going to divorce you." The information was supposed to have come from one of Mrs. Kennedy's closest friends.

Fay said he wanted rebuttal directly from Kennedy so he could kill the rumor at its source.

As Fay relates it: "Jack looked at me calmly as though I had just told him that his shoe was untied."

"Red," he said, without a flicker, "The story is false, but I wouldn't feel all that confident about killing it if I were you. People who spread stories like that don't want to accept a den-al. I think I know the girl in New York who is spreading that report. She and Jackie go to some of the same parties, and, amazingly enough, Jackie says she is always very friendly."

Fay also mentions briefly the rumor of a "secret marriage" by Jack Kennedy before his marriage to Jacqueline.

"The President was less disturbed by that irresponsible gossip than I was," Fay notes.

he said he urged the President to make a statement at a press conference about it.

Fay writes: "Resigned and unconcerned, Jack said, 'Red, if I make a statement to the public on everything I have been accused of, I'd spend all my time on radio and television trying to keep the record straight. If people want to believe such tales, no denial on my part is going to convince them differently.'"

Tail End of Season Like Nightmare

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

No, Herman, Walter and Harry, Alford Hitchcock did not make up the final month of the National League schedule. It just seems that way.

The way things are going to break for the top three contenders in the pennant race, their managers may have to keep a careful watch on their sanity. It's going to seem as if there's nobody else in the league.

And, in fact, that's almost the case. Herman Franks' San Francisco Giants, for instance, have 25 games left. Starting today, they play their last three with the Los Angeles Dodgers and then have no less than seven left with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Harry Walker's Pirates, in first place by two games now, face the same situation. Of their last 25 games, three are with the Dodgers and then those seven with the Giants.

Walter Alston's Dodgers have it a little better. Or do they? Of 27 contests remaining, three each are with the Giants and Pirates. But Los Angeles also has six games left with Philadelphia, which is in fourth place, and is as hot a club as there is in the league at the moment. The Phillies presently have won five in a row.

In Sunday's action, the Pirates retained their grip on first with an 8-5 victory over Chicago. San Francisco kept pace with a 9-2 pounding of St. Louis and the Dodgers did the same, beating Cincinnati 8-6. The Phillies beat New York 5-0 and Atlanta blanked Houston 2-0.

In the American League, Baltimore took Chicago 8-5. Detroit edged Cleveland 4-3 in 12 innings. Minneapolis bounced New York 9-2, Washington beat California 5-3 and Kansas City trimmed Boston 7-2 after losing 3-0 in the opener of their doubleheader.

The Pirates spotted the Cubs a four-run lead but came back with four in the third and three in the fourth, two on Manny Mota's pinch-hit single.

Juan Marichal won his 21st game and Willie McCovey provided the punch, a homer and two-run single, in the Giant victory. Tito Fuentes also homered for San Francisco.

Jim Lefebvre hit a two-run homer and Tommy Davis chipped in a two-run double, carrying the Dodgers past the Reds. Cincinnati came back with a rally of sorts in the late innings on a three-run homer by Don Schwall and Jay Ritchie. Eddie Mathews hit his 14th homer, his fourth of the five-game series, and Woody Woodward tripled in two runs.

Chris Short struggled to a 10-hit shutout over the Mets, who threatened often but couldn't score. It was Short's 17th victory.

Atlanta won its fifth in a row on a combination six-hitter by Don Schwall and Jay Ritchie. Eddie Mathews hit his 14th homer, his fourth of the five-game series, and Woody Woodward tripled in two runs.

VOLUNTEER FOR DUTY Richmond Flowers Jr., the huddles star, has a good chance to be in the starting backfield for the University of Tennessee this fall. He is a wideback.

Hirsch Bids for Second Rich Double

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Max Hirsch, 86-year old dean of American thoroughbred trainers, bids for his second rich double of the year today when Indulgo attempts to match strides with such handicap greets as Tom Rolfe and Bold Bidder in the $100,000-added Aqueduct at Aqueduct race course.

On the July 4 weekend Hirsch sent out Alexville to win the Saranac Handicap and Buffle to take the Suburban at Aqueduct. He set up another possible big weekend double last Saturday when Buffle won the $277,250 New Hampshire Sweepstakes Classic.

"It was my biggest race," Hirsch said after Buffle earned $180,212.50 with a 3 1/4-length victory over Amberoid. It was Hirsch's biggest single payoff in 75 years of racing.

Deckhand was a surprising third, another three-quarters of a length back. Jolly Jet, a stablemate of Tom Rolfe from Raymond Guest's Powhatan Farm, was fourth after going off the 5-2 favorite.

"I sure would like to have seen Buckpasser in the race," said Robert Kieberg, owner of Buffle. "I consider Buckpasser the best horse I ever have seen and my horse lost to him only by a nose in the Brooklyn Handicap."

Buffle, a picture chestnut, covered the 1 1/4 miles in 2:02.4-5 for a track record. He carried 123 pounds including jockey Johnny Rotz. Amberoid carried 126.

Indulgo gets into Aqueduct with 114 pounds and Rotz will be in the saddle.

Tom Rolfe picks up 127 pounds and likely will be the favorite although Bold Bidder, who beat the Tom Rolfe in the recent Washington Park Handicap, is in the 11-horse field under 123 pounds. Bold Bidder and Malicious with 122 pounds, are co-second choices at 4-1 each.

With 11 starters the Aqueduct will be worth $114,300 with winner picking up $74,295. It is the richest race on the Labor Day program.

Aparicio and Kaat Shake Up Yankees

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

One more punch and New York will be down for the count. Kaat, Minnesota's 225-pound southpaw pace, breezed to his 22nd victory of the season Sunday as the Twins pounded the Yankees 9-2. Aparicio, Baltimore's 155-pound shortstop, drilled five straight hits, leading the Orioles past the Chicago White Sox 8-5.

The winning Twins-Orioles combination dropped the Yankees 2 1/2 games off the pace in the American League — and left them one short step from mathematical elimination.

Should the first-place Orioles beat them in either game of today's holiday doubleheader at Baltimore, the Yankees will complete their earliest fade-out since 1925.

The Yankees, who finished seventh in an eight-team league that year, are in danger of hitting bottom in this season's 10-team race. Sunday's loss tumbled them into eighth place, only 1 1/2 games out of the cellar spot shared by Boston and Kansas City.

The A's and Red Sox divided a doubleheader Sunday, Kansas City taking the nightcap 7-2 with the help of a triple play after losing the opener 3-0.

Washington climbed past the Yankees into seventh place by downing California 5-3 and second-place Detroit remained 9 1/2 games off the pace by edging Cleveland 4-3 in 12 innings.

In the National League, Pittsburgh outscored Chicago 3-1, San Francisco walloped St. Louis 9-2, Los Angeles trimmed Cincinnati 8-6, Atlanta blanked Houston 2-0 and Philadelphia shut out New York 5-0.

Kaat, now 22-9, scattered six hits — including homers by Lou Clinton and Horace Clarke — to tie the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax for the most victories in the majors. The Twins' ace struck out 10 on the way to his seventh straight triumph.

Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva, with three hits apiece, led the Minnesota attack against Pedro Ramos and two successors. Ramos was making his first start for the Yankees after 128 relief appearances over the past 2 1/2 years.

Aparicio stroked four singles and a double in five trips to the plate, increasing his hit total to 161, the top figure in the Orioles' line-up. He capped Baltimore's decisive three-run rally in the eighth with his fourth single after pinch hitter Charlie Lau's triple broke a 4-4 deadlock.

The Athletics gained a split with Boston as left-hander Gil Blanco, helped out of a first-inning jam by the triple play, yielded only two hits over the first seven innings. Relievers Wes Stock and Jack Aker completed the three-hitter.

The A's turned Tony Conigliaro's bases-loaded bouncer into their first triple killing at Kansas City. Shortstop Bert Campaneris flipped to Dick Green for the force at second, Green doubled Conigliaro at first and catcher Phil Rho completed the play, taking Tim Lincecum's throw and tagging out Rico Petrocelli, who had overslid the plate.

Rookie Darrell Brandon blanked the A's on three hits in the opener and Joe Foy keyed Boston's two-run burst in the first inning with an RBI double. Washington's Ken McMullen blasted a three-run homer in the fifth inning, then drove in the deciding run with an infield single in the ninth. Jim Fregosi homered for the Angels, who scored two runs in the seventh, tying it 3-3.

Willie Horton opened the 12th inning with a homer off Sam McDowell, lifting the Tigers past Cleveland for their fifth straight victory. McDowell had forced across the tying run in the fifth with a bases-loaded walk to Orlando McFarlane.

QUICK QUIZ

Q—Does the hippopotamus sweat blood?

A—It is equipped with special skin pores that secrete a thick, oily, pinkish substance and, under excitement, this flows out copiously, giving rise to the illusion that the hippo sweats blood.

Q—In what city is the Golden Triangle?

A—This is the name given Pittsburgh's wedged-in-a-ped business district, with the Monongahela River on the one side and the Allegheny on the other. The tip of the triangle is where the streams join to form the Ohio River.

NLR Clings to Top Spot in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

North Little Rock maintained its grip on first place today in the Associated Press Arkansas high school football poll, but upstart Texarkana made the biggest noise.

The Razorbacks vaulted into third place behind Fort Smith Northside. Texarkana was sixth in last week's pre-season poll but gained the three notches on the strength of its 6-2 victory over Little Rock Central.

North Little Rock, first last week, earned 10 first place votes from the 12 sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll. The Wildcats had 118 points.

Northside clung to its No. 2 ranking by piling up 107 points and two first place votes.

Little Rock Hall was fourth at 77 points and Fort Smith Southside fifth with 72 points. Scoring is based on 10 points for first place, 9 for second, etc.

Rounding out the top ten in order were El Dorado, Little Rock Central, Pine Bluff, Little Rock Catholic and Crossett.

Crossett turned the tables on Catholic in the Class AA poll with the Eagles leading for the second straight week. Forrest City, on the strength of its 19-6 victory over highly regarded Harrison, moved into third place behind Catholic.

First Smith St. Anne's clung to first place in the Class A poll followed by Nashville and Dardanelle.

Parkin also retained its lead in Class B with Holly Grove remaining in second place. But Murfreesboro, a 7-6 winner over Fouke, slipped into third, displacing Norphlet by one point.

Results of the poll, with first place votes in parenthesis and total points at right:

1. North Little Rock (1) 118
2. Fort Smith Northside (2) 107
3. Texarkana 90
4. Little Rock Hall 77
5. Fort Smith Southside 72

Yerger in Victory at Lewisville

The Yerger Tigers went to Lewisville Saturday night and came home with a 31 to 7 victory.

Robert Prater, Tiger fullback, was the big gun, picking up 100 yards and two touchdowns. Otis Duffie, Ledell Shaw and William Muldrew also scored for Yerger.

Outstanding on defense were James Monk, Harold Lloyd, Ernest Standokes and Christ Hindman.

The Tigers will be at home against Merrill High of Pine Bluff next Friday night, Sept. 9.

Chargers in Victory Over Bills

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The San Diego Chargers opened their season with lots of wallop Sunday by downing the defending American Football League champion Buffalo Bills 27-7.

It was a revenge victory for the Chargers, who were trounced 23-0 by Buffalo in the final AFL game last Dec. 26.

Buffalo's starting passer, Jack 20Kemp, blamed himself and the Chargers for their loss. He completed only four passes in 20 throws and lost three on interceptions.

"I stunk," he said dejectedly. "The Chargers were ready for us. They played a strong game. But, it's a long season. We'll be back," said Kemp, a former Charger who went to Buffalo four years ago for the waiver price.

Kemp has been nursing a sore elbow, but did not blame the injury for his ineffective passing.

The former Charger has twice led the Bills to two AFL title wins over San Diego.

Sparking the Chargers was the passing of quarterback John Hadl, last year's league-leading passer, who connected on 14 of 18 throws for 157 yards and two touchdowns.

Flanker Lance Alworth was the leading receiver, snagging five for a total of 46 yards. Charger Leslie Duncan made a spectacular punt return, zig-zagging 81 yards across the field. Hadl and Alworth credited Coach Sid Gillman's planning for the win.

"Sid gave us a great game plan and we stuck with it," Hadl said.

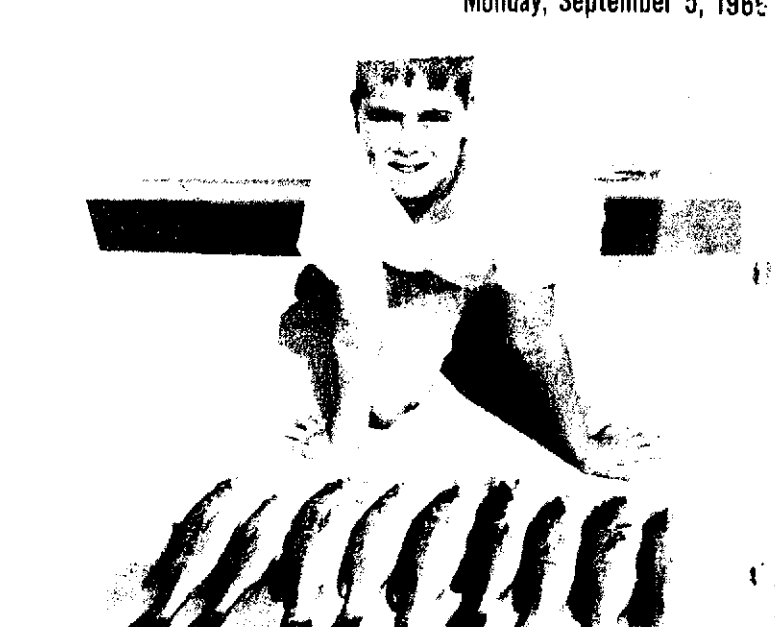

In a Saturday AFL opener, the Houston Oilers overwhelmed Denver 45-7, so completely dominating the game that the Broncos did not make one first down, gained only 32 yards and never got beyond their own 40.

The National League, meanwhile, wound up its exhibition program with a four-game schedule that saw Cleveland edge Pittsburgh 13-10 behind Leroy Kelly's rushing and receiving. Green Bay walloped New York 37-10, Washington whip Philadelphia 35-20 and Los Angeles crush San Francisco 29-9.

HAMBLETONIAN WINNER Kerry Way streaks for the finish of the second heat a half length ahead of Polaris. The three-year-old won harness racing's top prize at Du Quoin Ill. in two straight heats in 1:58.2, the fastest time ever for a filly, earning $60,000.

This was the catch Wade Harris made last week at a stock pond in the Spring Hill area. He caught all the fish within an hour, except for the one fish that his fishing partner, Dr. C. Lynn Harris caught.

Progress at Tech School Here

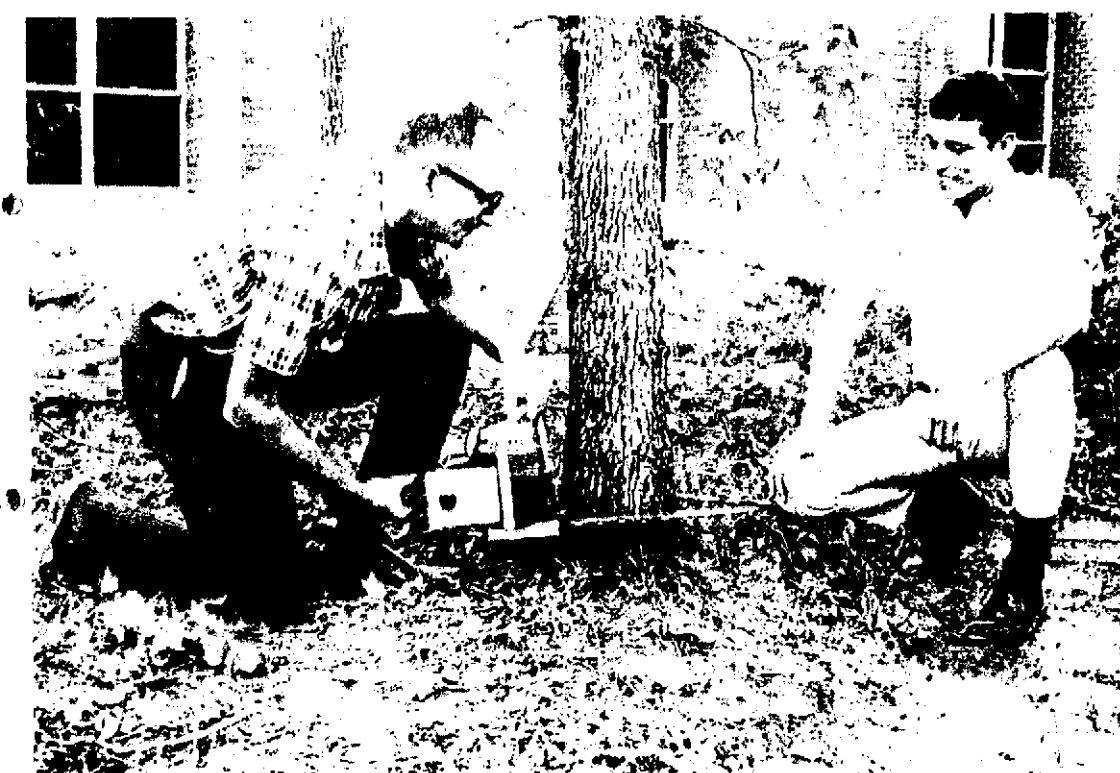

This scene shows the progress made on the buildings at the site of the Red River Vocational Technical School, south on Highway 29.

A Bucyrus 22-B backhoe is working at Red River Vocational Technical school digging disposal lines. Fred Fuller, heavy equipment instructor, is giving Ernie Daniel, student from Batesville, instructions in its use. The line job is a cooperative project between the schools heavy equipment class and the City of Hope.

George Bradley, heavy equipment student at Red River Technical school, is shown digging practice foundations on a backhoe. He also learned to operate a dozer and a motor patrol. New classes begin Sept. 26.

Remington Arms Co., makers of Remington Chain saws, has presented to Red River Tech school a model PL-15 inch saw for use in its forestry course. This is the first saw given the school and Larry May a forestry student, watches Matt McCauley, instructor, test the equipment.

Labor Day Marked by Big Parades

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Flags wave, workers parade, bands blare and speakers laud labor's role in American life as the nation observes Labor Day today. The holiday dates back to 1882, when workers staged the first Labor Day parade in New York City. It has been a legal holiday since 1894.

This year's observance comes amid record employment and a growing discontent over inflationary pressures.

The government announced last week that 76.4 million Americans were at work in August, a carryover of July's record-breaking figure. A week earlier, it had announced the cost of living had reached a record high.

Labor's top spokesman, George Meany, president of the 13-million-member AFL-CIO, defended the right to strike as vital to democracy and said in a holiday statement labor is not to blame for rising prices.

President Johnson said Labor Day is a time to focus on new ways to assure every citizen an equal share in the greatness of America.

"Every segment of American life — labor, government, business, the public at large — has a special stake in extending our prosperity to those it has eluded for too long," Johnson said in his Labor Day message.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz steered clear of controversial economic issues in their Labor Day messages, confining themselves to praising labor's role in seeking a better life for all Americans. In the background of the Labor Day celebration hung the strong possibility of a major strike in the telephone industry, following hard on the heels of the recent crippling airlines walkout that spurred new talk of antistrike legislation.

"In recent weeks and months, some of the basic precepts of free trade unionism have been challenged," Meany said in an obvious reference to the airlines furor.

"Anyone who says he believes in the right to strike must accept the fact that strikes will sometimes occur," he said.

Congress was considering legislation to end the airlines strike when the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists settled with five airlines. There are signs that new legislation to deal with strikes may come up in the next session of Congress.

Okinawa Slashed by Typhoon Alice

NAHA, Okinawa (AP) — Typhoon Alice slammed 140-mile winds into Okinawa today, killing one person and injuring 15 others. To the north, rescuers searched for 26 South Korean fishermen missing at sea.

The Koreans disappeared in high seas when 13 fishing boats sank. The bodies of 12 others were recovered.

Officials at the Naha airbase said damage to the U.S. base might run into millions of dollars. All aircraft were flown out before the storm hit. The injured included unidentified American servicemen cut by flying glass. An Okinawan was killed when his house collapsed.

The first ship sailed through the Suez Canal on Jan. 1, 1937.

THE DOCTOR SAYS
Thought for Labor Day:
Work Aids Good Health
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In our annual salute to labor we too often lose sight of the blessing of work. Kahil Gibran in his classic, "The Prophet," said, "Work is love made visible." And E. F. Ware said, "Work brings its own relief." Although it is true that the job that satisfies one man's emotional needs may be mere drudgery for another, some form of useful work is the greatest boon a person can have. Not only does work create the zest for a weekend of change or a holiday, it is the basis of both mental and physical health.

It is no accident that large armed forces hospitals,
Veterans Administration hospitals and even state mental hospitals have seen fit to install departments of occupational therapy. Idleness leads to unhealthy introspection, a preoccupation with one's own minor sources of irritation.
Whereas the devil finds work, or rather mischief, for idle hands to do, a job of work well-done is a source of healing self-satisfaction.

This has been amply illustrated at the VA Hospital in Brockton, Mass., where a program of work therapy called CHIRP (Community Hospital-Industry Rehabilitation Project) has enabled some veterans, who would otherwise have had to spend the rest of their lives in an institution, to return to useful jobs in their communities. The project is based on the belief, supported by observed results, that the maximum benefit comes from training for a specific job.

Labor unions have been far-sighted enough to realize that a union member might at any time become a patient and that a patient may become a union member. They have,
therefore, lent their support to the project.

One moral to be drawn from this experience is that every adolescent should train himself for service in a field that stimulates his interest. The man who goes through life at

Q—My doctor prescribed saltwater to be taken with my food. A friend told me that it is dangerous to take this every day. Is that true? Of what value is it?

A—Saltwater is potassium nitrate. It was given routinely to soldiers in World War I to subdue their "animal spirits."
It has also been given, in the past, to control waterlogging of tissues. Since modern waterproof pills are much more effective, it is rarely given any more for any purpose.

comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt,

Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

TREELESS TREE HOUSE is actually a two-story house and must come down because it violates zoning rules.
Fort Worth, Tex., officials have informed a group of boys. The boys wanted a tree house and built it on stilts because trees weren't available at the back yard site.
Trouble developed when a neighbor complained that it invaded her privacy. Allen and Charles Brown, 12 and East was still holding two good spades. South could still trump one spade in dummy but he had to lose one more spade trick, one club and one diamond and one spade already belonged to his opponents.

South was naturally upset about the fact that neither spades or hearts had broken well for him but 3-1 and 4-2 breaks aren't at all uncommon. In any event proper trump management would have let him make his contract.

When he led a round of trumps he indulged in an unnecessary extravagance. Had he simply played ace and one spade after winning the first trump lead there would have been no way to keep him from ruffing two spades in dummy and making his contract.

President Is Getting His Lumps Now

By JAMES MARLOW

But life-long politician Johnson knows it's par for the course for a president to get his lumps in a congressional election year like this and he seems to be bearing up comfortably under the burden of unhappy events.

Republicans, looking to the November elections, have been pecking away at him. Some critics have done it all year. And the polls indicate he's not as popular as he was.

The war in Viet Nam is perhaps his biggest political handicap. Prices and interest rates have gone up. His wage guidelines have been shattered. Inflation is a constant danger. And street riots continue in some cities.

Johnson has some kind of answer, satisfactory or not, for almost everything.

The Democrats won control of House and Senate by more than a 2-1 margin in their landslide victory in 1964. But it's traditional in an off-year election like the one coming up for the inquiry to lose some seats in Congress.

The Republicans claim they will capture 40 House seats. If they captured just 15 or 20 Johnson would have trouble getting his "Great Society" programs through during the next two years before the 1968 presidential election.

If they lost only 15 or 20 seats in the House, the Democrats would still have numerical control but not voting control, since conservative Democrats team up with Republicans too often for Johnsonian comfort.

For example: One of his pet programs — rent subsidies for the poor — just oozed through the House by a four-vote margin, despite the Democrats' 2-1 majority over the Republicans in total numbers.

But Johnson says he doesn't think the elections will make any unusual changes in House and Senate. He's taking no chances. His recent trips to the Midwest, New York, New England and the West were hardly "nonpolitical."

As for rising prices and wages: Twice in the past two weeks he gave a warning that could mean he will call for price and wage controls if the spiral keeps going up. Yet, the way he said it sounded mild.

He simply called on labor and business to show self-restraint for, otherwise, he said, the government might have to take other measures to control inflation.

While expressing deep sympathy for the condition of impoverished Negroes, he spoke out against riots in the streets, calling on whites and Negroes to show self-discipline and reliance on justice and the law.

His administration has been criticized for not doing more to help the nation's dilapidated cities but he said: His administration "has done more than any administration in the history of the country" to help the cities.

Republicans, like Richard M. Nixon, former vice president, predict division over the Vietnamese war will help the Republicans in November while they list the rising cost of living and interest rates as election issues, too.

Republicans generally back Johnson on the war but are his constant critics for his handling of it. A number of Democrats have done it, too. Johnson hasn't soft-pedaled the war.

But the one thing which seemed to leave him speechless was the Gallup poll report that Democrats prefer New York's Democratic Sen. Robert F. Kennedy to Johnson for the presidency in 1968.

Asked for an explanation of this, Johnson said he had no explanation.

NEWS BRIEFS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Military strongman Juan Carlos Onganía virtually abolished the right to strike Sunday and metal workers canceled a strike call.

The General Federation of Labor is expected to oppose the antistrike decree, which provides for government arbitration when labor and management cannot agree. No strikes would be permitted during the arbitration.

Firms failing to comply with arbitration rulings would be fined up to $1,000 for each employee. Employees failing to comply would be dismissed, without compensation, and lose their union rights.

Strikes plagued the civilian government of President Arturo Illia which Onganía and the army overthrew two months ago.

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Three leaders of the outlawed Moslem Brotherhood terrorist organization were executed at dawn today for plotting to assassinate President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Newspapers said Nasser had commuted the death sentences given four others to imprisonment for life.

Troops with machine guns ringed the Cairo appeal prison where the three were hanged. Newsmen were not allowed to enter the jail and were ordered out of the area as soon as the bodies were cut down.

Seven men were found guilty by a special military tribunal Aug. 21 of conspiring to kill Nasser and other top government leaders and planning a nationwide campaign to set up a theocratic state.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — The Polish cruise ship Batory, which in 15 years has lost a skipper, 26 crewmen and more than 100 passengers to the West, left 15 more passengers behind this weekend.

The ship stopped in Copenhagen with 580 Poles and 205 Czechoslovaks on a vacation cruise. When she sailed Saturday night, 14 Poles and a Czech remained ashore and asked for political asylum, police said Sunday.

On June 23, 1953, the Batory's skipper, Jan Cwiklinski, jumped ship in Britain and was granted asylum. Eight crewmen defected in July 1951, followed by 18 more a month later. Others have defected from the Batory to Britain, Canada and Denmark.

Wood Stains Differ So Consider Effect

Transparent wood stain used for house siding, fences and decks differs from heavy-bodied stain in the quantity of pigment included in the formula. Transparent stains have enough pigment to color the wood but allow its grain to show through.

Heavy-bodied stains are much like paint. They lay a film over the wood that obscures most of its characteristics.

Either may be used for siding and fencing, but only transparent stain should be used on a wood patio deck to eliminate splintering and scuffing from foot traffic.

Slant Sunshade To Foil Looker

Is your deck or patio exposed to view from a neighboring house that's on higher ground than yours? A privacy fence alone won't solve this problem, but often a sunshade will do wonders to block the view.

To make it work, build the sunshade with a slanting roof, tilting it down toward the neighbors and up on your side. That way, you can add three feet or more to the height of a privacy screen, which is usually held to six feet.

Some building codes, however, may require that this type of structure be moved in five feet or more from the property line. But that, too, could be an asset, placing the privacy sunshade and screen closer to the outdoor living area, where it's needed.

The sunshade roof needn't be solid to work well for privacy. Spaced boards, 1x4s or 1x2s set a half-inch apart, will do the job. Use cedar or fir for best results outdoors.

A Hunter's Rights?

Sportsmen, especially hunters, are among the most articulate and persistent opponents of federal firearms regulation. They insist upon their constitutional right to the use of firearms. Yet some sportsmen are rather indifferent to the constitutional rights of other people when they go hunting in rural areas.

Some of them are not very good apparently in reading "posted" signs on property whose owners want to preserve wildlife, avoid fire hazards caused by careless smokers, or prevent other damage to their property.

Some hunters, as Shirley W. Smith, of Reldsville, Route 6, also complains in a letter to various newspapers, apparently don't know the difference between a cow or goat and a deer, and have difficulty in distinguishing a rabbit from a pet house cat. Some, he says, park their cars on the farmer's lawn, giving little thought to the big ruts they make, and shoot toward houses and barns with abandon.

The proposed federal gun legislation would have little adverse effect upon the right of hunters to purchase and own firearms. Responsible sportsmen have this right, and no one proposes to take it away from them. The object of stricter gun legislation is to break up the mail order racket in firearms that puts deadly weapons in the hands of teenagers and other immature or irresponsible persons. But as many a land owner can testify, some hunters need to show more restraint while "bearing arms."

Postal Progress

Those who figure the Post Office Department is not making progress, just because mail service is slow and we don't have twice-a-day home deliveries anymore, is not keeping up with developments. Just the other day Postmaster General O'Brien issued a directive that may speed things up a bit and will, according to the P.G. save $4 million a year.

The Post Office has discovered the rubber band. The postmaster general has ordered that henceforth bundles of mail shall be secured by snapping a rubber band around them instead of tying them up as has been done since man remembereth not to the contrary.

This is progress indeed. It will be hard on string savers, who could always count on salvaging a few yards of the stuff, when they got a bundle of letters, but the string savers will just have to make the sacrifice in the interests of economy and speed. Besides, they can always start saving rubber bands. — Mason (Ga.) News.

Whippings at Prison Authorized

CUMMINGS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—The state Penitentiary Commission has authorized prison Supt. O. E. Bishop to use the strap as a means of punishment for prisoners who break the rules.

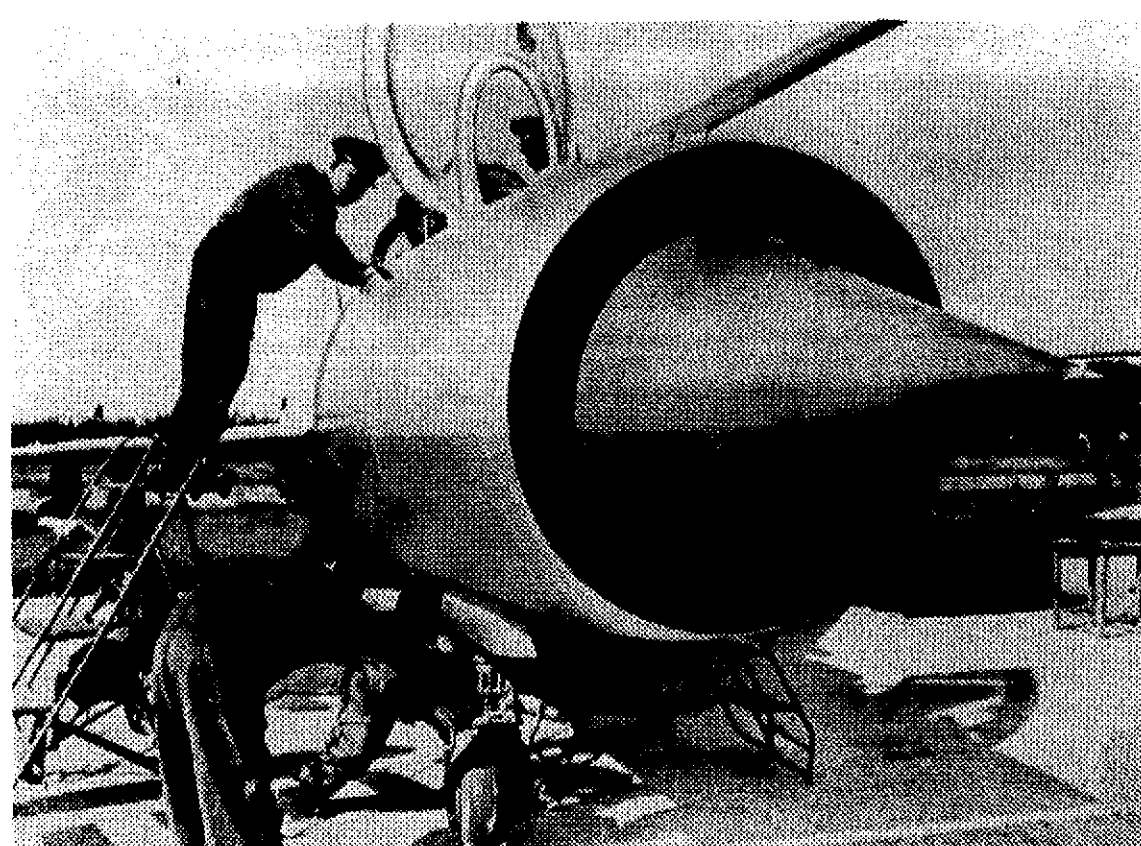

The authorization came at a meeting of the commission Saturday after Gov. Orval Faubus disclosed at a news conference Friday night that 144 convicts had been on a sit-down strike while he was visiting the farm.

Bishop was authorized to "use any legal means he believes necessary to impress upon" the prisoners "and all other inmates who break the rules as adopted by the state Penitentiary Commission will be followed — including corporal punishment."

Faubus, who announced the investigation at Tucker Prison Farm earlier, said the use of the strap would be discontinued, but after the sit-down strike, said a decision on its discontinuation would be made later.

Bishop also announced the hiring of Guthrie Goodwin, 46, of Ash Flat as assistant superintendent and head warden at Tucker.

The sit-down strike here is continuing, Bishop said, but with only about 100 prisoners and no trouble. He said the strikers were isolated from the rest alone.

Holiday Toll Sailing to New Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven lives were snuffed out early today as two cars crashed near Clearwater in western Florida, pushing the 78-hour Labor Day weekend traffic toll toward what the National Safety Council said looked like a "pretty definite" record.

The death toll reached 457. The crash on U.S. 19 a few miles north of Clearwater killed three boys and four girls, all teens, and injured three others.

It was one of four multiple fatalities that marred the holiday. The grimest accident came Sunday when three cars collided west of Norwalk on the rain-slicker Ohio Turnpike and nine persons died.

"Unless there's some radical improvement," said a safety council spokesman, "it will be near the top of our estimate — 630 deaths. This, of course, would far surpass the record of 563."

"At this point, it looks pretty definite," he added.

For comparison, 505 persons died on a recent non-holiday weekend.

Two multiple-fatality accidents Saturday took 11 lives. A collision in Jacksonville, Ill., killed four members of one family and two other persons and injured two others critically. A head-on crash near Wagner, S.D., resulted in five deaths and four injuries.

The 78-hour holiday began at 6 p.m. local time Friday. It ends tonight at midnight local time. Halfway through, 279 persons had died in traffic, compared to 225 at the y point during the 1965 weekend.

The safety council points to the past as it warns that tired drivers mean more accidents during the last half of the holiday.

The Associated Press surveyed nationwide traffic deaths from 6 p.m. Friday, Aug. 19, to midnight Monday, Aug. 22, to provide a comparison with the holiday toll. It found 505 persons died in traffic, 19 died in boating accidents and 41 drowned.

Early today, 18 had died in boating accidents and 51 had drowned.

The three three-day holiday weekends this year have all set traffic death records. Over the New Year, 564 died; 542 more perished during the Memorial Day weekend and 576 on the July 4 weekend.

But the all time three-day holiday weekend death toll was set over Christmas 1965, when 720 persons died in traffic.

Ambulance Franchises

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

Mayor Don Trumbo said Sunday that the city of Fayetteville has offered ambulance franchises to the public as a means of continuing the service in the city.

Many ambulance firms in Arkansas are planning to discontinue service because of, they say, rising costs.

Trumbo said that if no one took a franchise, the city was considering operating the service through the Fire Department, giving extra compensation to firemen who volunteer for ambulance duty.

Guards Hold Off Whites in Cicero

CICERO, Ill. (AP) — A long-threatened open housing march filed through hostile Cicero Sunday, with 3,000 police and National Guardsmen swinging bayonets and billyclubs to maintain order.

Six white spectators suffered minor bayonet cuts and police arrested at least 40 persons.

The march by 192 persons — far less than the 1,000 authorized by a parade permit — was protected by a force larger than any mobilized during the past six weeks of protest marches in the Chicago area. Less than one-quarter of the marchers were white. Some other marchers have been nearly half composed of whites.

As in other demonstrations, rocks, bottles and firecrackers flew at the marchers and hecklers shouted taunts and obscenities.

But, unlike other demonstrations, many of the marchers returned the taunts and threats. Cordons of police between marchers and hecklers made the threats impossible to carry out.

The heckling and missile tossing increased as the march neared its end. Police and guardsmen intervened, swinging nightsticks and rifles. A guardsman fired three shots over the heads of a group of white teen-agers.

Police surged into both marchers and spectators as both factions struggled to get at one another. The police prevented the two groups from meeting.

One white youth was clubbed by police and dragged away. Within minutes, order was restored and the marchers continued the few blocks to their dispersal point inside Chicago. Cicero, an all-white community of 70,000, borders Chicago on the west.

LBJ Admits This Jaunt Is Political

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson makes his first avowedly political trip of the campaign season today — bound for Labor Day appearances in vote-heavy Michigan and Ohio.

Johnson scheduled a mid-morning departure by plane for Detroit — traditional site of official Democratic campaign kick-offs — and was heading from there to Battle Creek, Mich., and Dayton and Lancaster, Ohio.

The President, who planned to be back in the White House after dark, did not announce his precise schedule in advance. This was attributed to security considerations. Dayton was the scene of racial rioting Thursday and 600 National Guardsmen still patrolled some of the city's streets.

For the first time since launching a round of ostensibly political travel June 30, with a trip to Nebraska and Iowa, Johnson was conceding this latest journey bore a political tag.

Rental charges for Johnson's aircraft will be paid this time by the Democratic party. Perhaps for this reason, he decided to fly in a propeller-driven Air Force Convair, which rents cheaper than his regular jet, though providing fewer seats for coattail-grabbing politicians.

In keeping with his recent travel pattern, Johnson was visiting congressional districts where first-term Democratic House members — some elected largely because of his landslide 1964 victory over Republican Barry Goldwater — face GOP challenges.

Three of the day's appearances — at a Detroit memorial service for Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., and at fairgrounds in Dayton and Lancaster — were holiday events sponsored by organized labor.

The occasion for Johnson's visit to Battle Creek was the 100th birthday of the Battle Creek Sanitarium and Rehabilitation Center.

This was the third straight weekend of presidential speech-making away from Washington. This time, however, Johnson did not spend the whole time out of town. He was at the White House Sunday after appearing Saturday at Summersville, W. Va., to dedicate a reservoir, and at Dallastown, Pa.

In Dallastown, celebrating its centennial, Johnson promised a crowd that dwarfed the community's population of 3,700 that the federal government will help in trying to stem the migration from rural areas into crowded cities.

In small towns, said Johnson in an off-the-cuff remark, "the girls are fonder and dinner pails are fuller."

Labor Told Make Gains Little Slower

By FRANK CORMIER

DETROIT (AP) — President Johnson told organized labor today, on its own holiday and in one of its citadels, that "it can't make all the gains it wants — all at once."

Johnson, starting his first admittedly political trip of the campaign season, coupled a blunt call for labor union restraint in wage demands with these promises:

— He pledged he would not forget the goal of a guaranteed annual wage.

— He promised to fight in 1967 for repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act, which authorizes states to outlaw the union shop contracts that require all eligible employees to join the union.

In a Labor Day address prepared for a union-sponsored memorial service at Cobo Hall for Sen. Patrick V. McNamara, D-Mich., Johnson said he did not want to tarnish rough facts about inflation — "a pickpocket."

He asserted in a key passage: "Labor wants — and labor deserves — a growth of real wages, not just money wages. It wants wage gains that will offset some of the recent rise in the cost of living. But it can't make all the gains it wants — all at once — no matter how big wage increases become. For in the long run, even the strongest union, with the power to negotiate massive wage increases, cannot hold its own if it contributes to an inflation that wrecks prosperity."

As for businessmen, Johnson said the manufacturer knows "that the abundant profits he earns from keeping his plant fully used can be destroyed by shortsighted attempts to get a little higher profit through higher prices."

The President, his travel paid for by the Democratic party, was visiting Detroit and Battle Creek, Mich., Dayton and Lancaster, Ohio. Freshman Democrats in the House face Republican opposition in the November election in all these communities.

While in effect lecturing his Detroit audience, assembled under sponsorship of the AFL-CIO, Johnson sought to blunt labor's unhappiness over the administration's defeats in efforts to repeal Section 14B.

"One piece of unfinished business," he said, "is to repeal a law that gives no one the right to work, that weakens union responsibility without strengthening individual liberty, that causes endless and useless dispute in our country."

As in 1964 and 1965 and 1966, he said, repeal action will be "on my list of major recommendations to the next Congress."

Regarding a guaranteed annual wage, Johnson said: "We know that the America we dream of must be an America where every citizen can earn a guaranteed annual income sufficient to meet his basic needs. I pledge you that we will not forget this goal."

3 American Bombers Shot Down

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — North Vietnamese ground fire shot down three U.S. fighter-bombers during raids near Hanoi Sunday and another American plane was knocked down farther south today, the U.S. command announced.

Only one of the five pilots was rescued, a spokesman said. The aircraft losses brought the number of U.S. planes reported shot down over North Viet Nam to 361.

While American jets pounded oil depots, missile sites and other targets in the North Vietnamese heartland, government troops in South Viet Nam reported wiping out nearly half of a 600-man elite Communist force in a three-day operation in the sweltering swamplands of the Mekong Delta 120 miles southwest of Saigon. The fighting broke a 10-day lull in ground action in the south.

Mishaps plagued air operations in the South.

A U.S. twin-engine Army C-47 transport plane crashed into a Vietnamese village Sunday shortly after taking off from Dong Tra airfield about 250 miles northeast of Saigon. Four villagers were killed and 20 to 25 other persons were injured, including three U.S. crewmen.

A few hours later, a Zuni rocket accidentally discharged as it was being loaded onto a U.S. Marine jet at Da Nang, and hurtled into a nearby Vietnamese military building at the air-

Primaries Tuesday in 3 States

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Grant Sawyer of Nevada, seeking re-election, goes into a Democratic primary contest Tuesday in the public posture of defender of the state in a clash with Bobby Kennedy.

Iowa and North Dakota vote in other Tuesday primaries.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's name has cropped up in one fashion or another in many earlier primaries, but the role fashioned for the New York Democrat by events in Nevada is unique.

It goes back to 1961 when Kennedy was attorney general and the Justice Department began looking into gambling in Nevada.

Gambling is legal there and runs over $300 million a year. Taxes on it are the principal source of the state's revenue.

Federal agents were interested in possible ties with criminal elements and whether there was evasion of federal taxes.

Subsequently, the Nevada Gaming Commission, a state body regulating gambling, made its own investigation.

Claims U.S. Sank Small China Vessel

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Red China charged today U.S. planes attacked and sank a small Chinese vessel, damaged another and killed nine crewmen in the Gulf of Tonkin in a "provocative and grave incident."

Radio Peking said the attack was made a week ago. Spokesman for the U.S. Military Command and the 7th Fleet refused comment except to refer to a Navy communique of that day.

The communique said carrier-based planes sank a North Vietnamese patrol boat and possibly damaged two others in the Gulf about 70 miles southeast of Hanoi. Later a briefing officer said another Vietnamese boat was sunk.

Hope Firemen Host of Group in Training

More than 100 fire fighters from 13 departments are expected to attend a two-week training session at the Hope fire station beginning September 12, according to James Cobb, fire chief.

Cobb said the school was one of 19 such training sessions conducted annually by the Arkansas State Fire College, a division of the state Education Department.

State Fire Instructors, Whit Murphy and Ralph Scantlin, will conduct the course based on special hazards and includes the hazards of electricity and illustrated methods of handling incidents involving electricity; tank vehicle fire-fighting; hazardous chemical, gases, volatile solids and explosives; radioactive materials; exotic materials fires, such as magnesium, lithium, aluminum, polystyrene, and urethane foam rubber.

Features of the program will be the burning of a quantity of these materials and demonstrations of the effectiveness of high expansion foam.

Murphy said the regional schools reach about 86 percent of the 240 fire departments in the state and require 10 months to present in order to cover the state.

Members of fire departments attend will be from Texarkana, Ashdown, Lockesburg, Dierks, Murrefreesboro, Delight, Nashville, Mineral Springs, Lewisville, Bradley, Emmet, Prescott, Gurdon.

Six Persons Killed in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Six persons — including three pedestrians — have been killed on Arkansas highways during the Labor Day holiday period.

Five of the deaths came Sunday, the other one Saturday.

Vera Craft, 33, of West Memphis was killed Sunday when her car was struck from behind by another and knocked into the path of a third on U.S. 63 about three miles north of Turrell.

State Trooper Jimmy Hicks said a car driven by Gary D. Adams, 27, of Harrisburg hit the Craft car from behind and it was knocked into the path of one driven by Frederick Marsh, 19, of Millington, Tenn.

Two passengers — Howard Colie, 36, in the Craft car and David Gogan in the Marsh car — were treated at a West Memphis hospital for injuries believed not serious, Hicks said.

BULLETIN

CUMMINGS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP)—Tear gas and gunshots into the air broke up a sit-down strike by 144 convicts at Cummins State Prison Farm today.

Clarence Thornbrough, executive aide to Gov. Orval Faubus, announced the action, breaking a wall of silence that had surrounded happenings at the prison earlier in the day.

Prison Supt. O. E. Bishop had not been available for comment.

Thornbrough said Bishop had reported to him that all of the prisoners except one had returned to work in the prison farm fields.

All privileges of the prisoners will be restored tonight, except for the good behavior time they lost during the sit-down, Thornbrough said.

The strike began Friday while Faubus was visiting Cummins and Tucker Prison Farms. Faubus said the prisoners were under the mistaken belief that a whip-like leather strap used to punish inmates had been abolished.

River Region Is Studied

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Planning Commission will release results of a comprehensive planning study for the Arkansas River Region Friday at the annual meeting of the Arkansas River Basin Association.

The study, which cost $331,000 and took two years to complete, is designed to provide a comprehensive master plan for development of 25 counties included in the region.
